"What Shall we Do for Servants?"

The question, which is constantly propounded in our midst, and as yet has received no satisfactory reply, must soon present itself for a general and prompt decision. The services of freedmen and women are so uncertain, and even grudgingly given, and their wages so increasingly high, that in another year, unless a marked change takes place, few will be willing or able to submit to their extortions and unthrift. The altered relations, too, the removal of all restraint upon an ignorant and credulous race, who are entirely under the control of vicious and unprincipled men, render them unsafe and undesirable inmates in the households of their former owners. There may be instances of rare attachment and fidelity among them, but the subversive element has been so powerfully instilled into their minds, that in many instances they look upon a Southerner as a natural enemy, to be spoiled and hated.

In cities, or even large towns, German and Irish emigrants can be procured at reasonable rates, but they are too unwilling to leave the neighborhood of towns where they can command the companionship of their own people, to make them a reliable dependence throughout the country.

We are not dealing with the important question of free labor in extensive agricultural operations, but in the narrow sphere of domestic households. We believe, too, the answer to the question we have asked must be sought and found in the good sense and careful forethought of each family.

As a general rule, Southern women have accepted the strange and onerous duties imposed upon them by a new condition of things, with a quiet, uncomplaining dignity, which their countrymen would do well to emulate. There has been little outcry and complaint, no impatient railing against an adverse destiny, no eating dust and rending of garments under the feet of the conquerors, nor any act, hidden or overt, which could cast the remotest reproach upon the memory of those whose dust they delight to honor. No; their moan was made, and they accept the restrictions of an altered condition. To them our question addresses itself with peculiar force.

The Southern households, where the females of a family have taken entirely upon themselves the burden of domestic duty, are marked by a degree of neatness and order utterly impossible under the careless supervision and labor of negro servants. Every one knows of their surreptitious dust holes for the stowing away filth of every description, and the maxim that "dirt never kills," which they carry religiously into practice. The mere superintendence of their careless labors was a greater drudgery than to do it oneself.

When there is health, a moderate degree of energy and good will, and several in a family, the work is no heavy burden upon any one of them. It is only suprising, in a short time, what can be done, and done well, of the labor which six or seven servants in eternal bustle and confusion were striving to accomplish in the twelve hours. In these days of labor-saving inventions, work has been rendered as light as work can well be. A good kitchen and cooking stove will hardly injure the hands or complexion of the fairest belle, whose heaviest task work had hitherto been to master the difficulties of an opera of "Meyerbeer," or to paint a landscape from Poussin. The new washing machine leaves little to be desired in the way of lightening that heaviest of all domestic drudgery; a division of labor there converts a toil, if not into pleasure, at least into a very honorable necessity and an ultimate benefit.

We believe that in a year the amount of money saved, and of comfort gained, if every woman in a Southern household should resolutely set her face toward the discharge of duties which will be ultimately forced upon her, would promote the happiness, energy, and usefulness of the whole land. A spirit of independence would take the place of that inertness which has hitherto paralyzed our efforts, and we would become a stronger and better people. She might, perhaps, find less time for the requirements of fashion, but quite as much for the management of her family, the cultivation of mind, and a practice of all those social virtues and accomplishments which conduce so much to the happiness of a fireside.

Ladies, there were heroines among you in the crowded hospitals, on the bloody battle-fields, wherever there was pain to be relieved, or fainting hearts to be strengthened. Your countrymen "rise up and call you blessed," and we feel assured that there is no emergency you cannot meet, no exigency for which you are not provided.

"MOTHER GOOSE" A PROPHETESS.—"Mother Goose," when she wrote her famous "melodies," foretold with the certainty of one inspired with poophesy the conduct of a certain New England general when she penned the line:

"And the Butler ran away with the spoons."

The following direction was on a letter which passed through the post office:

Wood
John
Mass.

A shrewd postmaster finally decided that it was intended for John Underwood, Andover, Mass.

Some letter puzzles are made quite curious by a diagrammatic arrangement. Such a one is—

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND Near Warrenton, N. C.

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

TERMS.—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered,

FOR SALE.

The Warrenton Female College is now offered for sale, on reasonable terms. This College has been in successful operation, for over twelve years, and, during that time, it has earned a reputation as an Institution of learning, second to none in N. C.

The location is such as to warrant a full attendance of pupils, being very accessible from any point, especially the Eastern portions of N. C. and Va.

The Committee, who have been empowered to make sale of this property, deem it unnecessary to say more of this Institution as its character for so high a grade of scholarship, and the elevated standard of morals inculcated, under the eye and supervision of its late President, E. E. Parham, is already well known.

The society in which this College is located is known to be equal to any in the South.

The premises contain about SIXTY ACRES of Land a material portion of which is within the Corporation. INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture, and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AS IT IS, AND THE UNION AS IT WAS. NO FURTHER AMENDMENTS.

FOR GOVERNOR,

JONATHAN WORTH,

OF RANDOLPH.

Election, Thursday, October 18th.

Gen. Dockery Declines!

We learn that information has been received in this city that Gen. Dockery declines to run as a candidate for Governor. We presume that the Standard of to-morrow will publish his letter. It is stated that he declines, first, because the time is too short to canvass the State, and he is not willing to be a candidate without a canvass; secondly, because the paucity of delegates at the meeting held here in the Standard office was not a sufficient indication of the choice of the people that he should run. It is, however, reported that Gen. Dockery favors the platform of the meeting which nominated him.

We regret that Gen. Dockery declines and thus spoils the fun which we anticipated. Our friends throughout the State are nevertheless notified that it is necessary to be on the alert, as all the electioneering machinery of the Holdenites has been put in operation, and we are quite sure Gen. Dockery will be voted for throughout the State as the representative of Mr. Holden and the Howard amendment.

Personally, we respect the age and former good conduct of Gen. Dockery. We regret that he has even unwittingly allied himself with a faction which has done and is doing great injustice and serious damage to the loyal people of North Carolina by their unmitigated slanders and false statements. The Northern mind has been shamelessly perverted and prejudiced against North Carolina, without any good cause whatever, and Gen. Dockery, as well as every other good citizen, owes it to his State and people to labor to correct by his influence such unfounded and false assaults upon them.

Report of the Reconstruction Committee.

The following is the list of witnesses examined by this Committee, whose testimony relates to North Carolina, viz:

Rev. James Sinclair, of Robeson County.

Lieut. George A. Sanderson, of Mass., Freedmen's Bureau.

Col. E. Whittlesey, Maine, Freedmen's Bureau.

Homer A. Cook, Quartermaster.

Rev. Hope Bain, Universalist preacher.

Lt. Col. Dexter H. Clapp, Mass., Freedmen's Bureau.

J. A. Campbell, Adjutant General.

Hon. Bedford Brown, of North Carolina.

Lt. Col. W. H. H. Beadle, Michigan.

Thos. M. Cook, Wilmington Herald, New Yorker and army correspondent of New York Herald.

Major Henry C. Lawrence, Freedmen's Bureau.

With the exception of Col. Brown, (the only native of the State in all the eleven, and who, as might be expected, spoke favorably and truthfully of his fellow-citizens,) and Major Lawrence, of Illinois, some time on duty in connection with the Freedman's Bureau in Warren County and in Fayetteville, and who did honor to himself by the candor and full justice to the people of the State in his evidence, all these witnesses exhibit the bias of strong prejudice.

We are anxious to know who suggested this particular selection of witnesses as to the character and political condition of North Carolina. Besides Col. Brown, there is hardly any one, that any citizen of the State, of our acquaintance, would have summoned to prove his individual character. Yet they are sufficient to determine the momentous question of the right of the State to representation in Congress.

The Rev. Mr. Sinclair lost his connection with the Presbyterian Church, we had understood, by sentence of exclusion. His deposition would make the impression that this was but the consequence of his loyalty. Our information is, that politics did not enter into the question,—that it was an affair of morals and the decalogue. He manifests an especial antipathy to the Clergy of that respectable denomination in the State. He admits, that since the war, he has heard some of the Ministers pray for "all in authority over us," but he has never heard them pray for "His Excellency, the President of the United States." This, to him, is evidence of their disaffection. Who ever did hear a sensible man, Clergyman or Layman, insult Omnipotence by a parade of earthly titles, when acknowledging the insignificance of all worldly things, and praying the divine blessing and forgiveness?

The other reverend witness, Mr. Hope Bain, who, as we published in a late number of this paper, in his deposition leaves the question "in doubt whether or not Gov. Holden is a loyal man," believes no Union man can be elected to an office in North Carolina, certainly not in the County of Wayne; and that in a foreign war a majority would go with the enemy, &c. Mr. Hope, we fear, is but a poor "comforter of the wretched," and in his politics, at least, is more inclined to universal condemnation than universal salvation. He certainly "deals damnation round the land" quite unsparingly.

Adjutant General Campbell thinks "some aristocrats about Raleigh wish for a monarchy," and, strange to relate, this officer took it into his head that North Carolina was bound individually for a part of the Confederate debt.—Being asked what they would do in regard to the Confederate debt, &c., he replies: "They would assume and pay that part of it for which they think the State of North Carolina responsible. The State of North Carolina, I believe, endorsed some of the bonds. The debt is in such a condition that they consider the State of North Carolina responsible for a part of it.—That part they would pay."

It is perfectly notorious that this State never endorsed one dollar of the Confederate debt, and that the people have not the least disposition to assume and pay any part of it. We wish this pamphlet of 800 pages (small print) could be generally seen and examined by the people of the country. We may notice extracts from it with more leisure than at present.

We repeat our admiration of the impartial and just testimony of Major Lawrence, who it seems happened opportunely to be in Washington, and was cited before the Committee at the instance of Senator Reverdy Johnson. And when Senator Howard, of Michigan, who seems to have had special charge of the State, found him representing the condition in a favorable light, he inquired of him how he happened to be in Washington, and being answered that he was there on his way home, after an absence of five years in military service, he inquired whether he had not been summoned before the Committee by request of Mr. Johnson. We had supposed that Mr. Johnson, being a member of the Committee, had a right to suggest witnesses as well as others, but the interrogatory brings that into question. This kind of cross examination was practiced on no other witness as to this State. Her people may well exclaim:

"STRIKE BUT HEAR."

They certainly have had but a partial hearing as yet.

The Howard Amendment—Its Supporters.

The very small and comparatively insignificant portion of the people of this State who endorse the Howard amendment, and the Radical plan generally, may be divided into the following classes:

1. A few disappointed and vindictive politicians, who, scouted and ignored by their fellow-citizens, seek the gratification of a mean revenge by their degradation, and build their only hopes of office and promotion upon the triumph of the Radical schemes.

2. Men who were guilty of crimes and misdemeanors during the war, and since, who, when overtaken by the violated law, clamor that they are "persecuted Union men," and who would welcome any change that promises the interruption or the subversion of the Courts.

3. Men who are, and always have been, constitutionally Radicals.

4. Men who favor negro-suffrage per se.

5 A few Yankee residents or sojourners, (not all, by any means) whom the ebb of the war left on our soil. And

6. Some honest, timorous, deluded and weak-kneed men who are frightened with the assertion, and misled by the unmanly plea, that "it is the best we can get."

If Gen. Dockery had accepted the Holden-Radical nomination, or if he now endorses the Howard amendment, we could not conscientiously class him under either of the foregoing heads. He has no malice to gratify that we are aware of, and although his course during the war war was full of strange inconsistencies, he never forfeited the entire respect of his immediate fellow-citizens. When he made speeches to encourage volunteering, sent his negroes to work on the fortifications, and indignantly denied that he was a reconstructionist, his friends and neighbors warmly applauded his course; and when his action in other respects was calculated to bring suspicion upon the sincerity of his professed devotion to the cause in which his State had embarked its all, they were charitable and forgiving. Nor, certainly, could the General be included in either of the other classifications,—not even the last, for the old gentleman has always had the credit of being bold and opinionative. He has not been in the habit of allowing others to manufacture opinions for him. He has generally been as independent in his sentiments as Mr. Holden said, in 1854, he was in his lexicography and pronunciation.

We could have found, then, but one category in which to locate the General. We will not insult him by supposing that he at heart approves the doctrines of the Howard amendment. They are at total variance with his life-long political sentiments, and destructive of all those reserved rights of the States for which he has always contended. The third section would disqualify himself from holding office and throw him, for absolution, upon the tender mercies of Congress, while it would disfranchise many of those who have heretofore supported and honored him.

This, therefore, must have been the melancholy conclusion: Gen. Dockery, if he had yielded to the solicitations of the Radical San Salvadoreans, would have sacrificed the confidence of friends, the consistency of a long public life, the honor of his State, all the safeguards of constitutional liberty, for the poor, empty bauble of a nomination at the hands of a man who had maligned and denounced him without stint in times past, without the faintest shadow of a possibility of an election!

President Johnson on the Constitutional Amendment.

Bennett is considerably "set back." We alluded, a few days since, to the unfounded roorback of the Herald that the President was so far wavering in his adherence to his policy, that he had actually opened a correspondence with Southern Governors touching the expediency of accepting the constitutional amendment. We denied this, so far, at least, as the Governor of North Carolina was concerned. Bennett himself has now been compelled to "take back" all his falsehood. We find the following in the last Herald:

We are sorry to hear from Washington that the President has authorized "an emphatic denial" of the statement that he was about to modify his policy to the extent of recommending the constitutional amendment of Congress to the adoption of the unrepresented Southern States."

THE STATE ELECTIONS in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois take place to-morrow week, the 9th, instant.

The Newbern Times and the Working-men.

The Newbern Times accompanies the publication of the proceedings of the late Working-men's meeting in this city with the following comment:

"These men have been led astray by demagogues at the capital. The constitutional amendment does not propose to disfranchise a single man, it does not propose to force negro suffrage on the States. They are falsehoods manufactured out of the whole cloth, by political demagogues, purposely to deceive the working men, and it seems they have had their desired effect."

This is a gross reflection upon the intelligence of our mechanics and workingmen, because, in the exercise of their honest judgment, they will not go with the Times in its support of Radicalism. We tell that paper that there were many men in that meeting who are more capable of forming an enlightened opinion than its Editor, and but few who cannot make a more fair and intelligent analysis of the Howard amendment than its "constitutional lawyer."

It is a miserable begging of the question to assert that that amendment "does not propose to disfranchise a single man." In the sense of excluding from voting, this is so, but a full citizen has other franchises than the right to vote. The right of every man in a Republican government to hold office, for which he may be constitutionally eligible, is one of his dearest franchises; and this right the proposed amendment takes away from a large and the most intelligent portion of our people.

True again, the Howard amendment "does not propose to force negro suffrage on the States." But if they accept it, the door is opened to a Congressional legislation, which will ultimately and surely force it upon an unwilling people.

Gen. Ewing's Speech.

We have just read the speech of Gen. Hugh Ewing, of Kansas, delivered at the late Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention at Cleaveland. We pronounce it one of the most able, perspicuous and powerful arguments we have read during the entire contest. He shows, with the light and power of a sunbeam, that the policy of President Lincoln and the war party of the North was identical with that of President Johnson, and with the real war party of the North now; that the Howard amendment entirely ignores the principles of the party which elected Messrs. Lincoln and Johnson, and that it subverts the Constitution and the foundation principles of the Republic. His statements are undeniable and his logic beyond refutation. The Conservatives of the North could do no better service to the cause of truth, of the Constitution and the Union, than to spread this document broadcast over the North. We regret that our space will not allow us to give this speech entire in one issue. We will, to-morrow, give our readers a portion of it.

PARDONED.—We learn that the Hon. A. W. Venable, of Granville, has been pardoned by the President.

Yellow Fever and Cholera.

NEW ORLEANS, September 27—There were five deaths from yellow fever and eleven from cholera yesterday.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., September 26.—There have been twenty-six deaths from cholera in this city for the last twenty-four hours.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., September 26.—Thirty-three new cases of cholera are reported to-day. In the last twenty-four hours there have been nine deaths.

NASHVILLE, September 27.—Twenty-two deaths are reported from cholera, and thirteen from other causes, within the last twenty four hours. This decrease has infused more animation into business. Absentees are daily returning. It is believed that the present favorable weather will soon entirely remove the epidemic.

MEMPHIS, September 27.—Forty-five new cases of cholera are reported, and twenty-four deaths within the past twenty-four hours. The disease is almost exclusively confined to negroes and the lower class of whites.

The Case of Mr. Davis.

The probabilities of the trial of Mr. Davis at the approaching term of the United States Court appointed to be held at Richmond, Va., next month, are exciting considerable attention; but it is not at all likely that any trial will take place at that time, and this for the same reasons that have actuated Chief Justice Chase hitherto in refusing to take up the case. Some time ago the Chief Justice, in an interview with the President, expressed doubts as to the full bearing of the President's peace proclamation, and manifested some fear that it did not fully remove martial law. He was willing, however, that Judge Underwood should proceed to hold a term of the District Court as an experiment, and in case there was no military interference he would go down and hold a term of the Circuit Court. The District Court was held and considerable business was transacted, all its mandates and processes being respected and obeyed precisely as in the Northern States; but Judge Chase still declined to hold a term of the Circuit Court. At a recent conference between the Chief Justice, Judge Underwood and other officials of the judicial branch of the government, another objection was discovered to the holding of this court. The legislation of the last session of Congress is considered so to have affected the court that the adjourned session appointed to be held next month cannot legally be held. However this may be, it is looked upon by the outside public as a persistent effort to shirk the responsibility of the trial of Mr. Davis. Prior to the application that was made some months ago for a writ of habeas corpus for the purpose of bringing Mr. Davis before the civil courts, some interviews were had with the President in regard to the matter, when he distinctly informed the judicial authorities that no interference whatever would be put forth by the military authorities with the execution of the writ were one issued. It was then contended that, should the courts take the prisoner from the custody of the military authorities they had no secure place in which to confine him. The President then tendered to them the use of Fortress Monroe as a prison for that purpose. Nevertheless the application for the writ was refused. Hence it must appear that all the responsibility for holding Mr. Davis without trial rests with the Chief Justice, Judge Underwood and the officials of the United States Court for the Circuit and District of Virginia.—Washington Cor. N. Y. Herald.

Fifty-four members of Congress will be elected in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, October 9th.

From the New York World.

Death of Dr. Francis Lister Hawks.

Rev. Francis Lister Hawks, D. D., died at his residence in this city yesterday morning, aged 69 years. He was born in Newbern, North Carolina, June 10, 1798. He was graduated at the University of North Carolina in 1815, and was admitted to the bar in 1819, and practised in North Carolina. He was elected to the Legislature of his native State at the age of 23, but soon after turned his attention to theology, and was ordained in 1827. He first officiated in New Haven, Conn., as assistant minister to Dr. Harry Croswell, in Trinity Church, and was, in 1829, assistant minister at St. James, in Philadelphia. In 1831 he was rector of St. Stephen's, in this city, and was next called to St. Thomas's, where he remained till 1843. In 1835 Dr. Hawks was appointed to the missionary bishopric of the Southwest, at the same time that Bishop Kemper was put in charge of the Northwest; but no provision being made for his support, he declined the appointment. Having been appointed historiographer of the American Episcopal Church, Dr. Hawks, under the authority of the General Convention, went to England and obtained copies of a number of valuable and important papers relating to the early history of Episcopacy in America. In 1837, in conjunction with Dr. Henry, he founded the New York Review, of which he was for some time editor and a principal contributor.—About the same date he founded St. Thomas's Hall, at Flushing, L. I., an enterprise which involved him deeply in debt. When he was afterwards chosen Bishop of Mississippi, his indebtedness was made an objection to his consecration by the House of Bishops, but he was triumphantly exonerated, and then declined the position. At the close of 1844, he became rector of Christ's Church, in New Orleans, succeeding the Rev. Dr. Wheaton. Here he remained five years, and was, during that time, elected President of the University of Louisiana. In 1849 he came to New York, and became rector of the Church of the Mediator, which was soon merged in Calvary Church. In 1854 he was elected Bishop of Rhode Island, but declined the office, preferring to retain his rectorship in this city.

Six pleasant years followed, and during that time Calvary Church, which was much in debt when Dr. Hawks assumed charge of the congregation, was entirely freed, and became one of the largest and most notable congregations in the city. The doctor, too, meanwhile, had been relieved from his embarrassments, and seemed to have settled down for life, free from care, other than that imposed by the duties of his situation, in a loved and loving home. But 1861, with the secession of the Southern States, brought dissensions and divisions in the congregation and vestry of Calvary, and for days it was discussed whether Dr. Hawks, Southern-born, and a known sympathizer with secession, should be asked to resign. At the annual Easter meeting of the vestry in that year it was as good as decided that the doctor must go. The proceedings of several subsequent meetings were published in the daily papers, and Dr. Hawks finally resigned, virtually exchanging parishes with Dr. Arthur Cleveland Coxe (now Bishop of Western New York,) Dr. Hawks going to Christ Church, Baltimore, and Dr. Coxe coming to Calvary in this city. Dr. Hawks managed to "keep out of the papers," so far as expressing his opinion about the political situation was concerned, and, like most clergymen of the Episcopal Church, he never preached politics in the pulpit; and during the four years of war he retained the love and affection of his old friends, alike at the North and the South.—Soon after the peace last year he was recalled to this city by some of his former parishioners, and it is only a few days since the corner-stone of a new and splended Church, of which he was to be rector, was laid in Madison avenue.

Doctor Hawks' position in his church was among the very first and most eminent divines of that denomination. We can recall no clergyman who has had more honors actually thrust upon him,—honors which he has almost invariably declined. He seemed satisfied with the simple charge of a congregation, and in his connections with different parishes in widely separated sections of the country he has won all hearts. No rector was every more loved in his priestly capacity and as a man. His ministrations in his desk and in the pulpit will be long remembered by all who heard them. To a scholarship of the highest order he added the winning ways with which nature had endowed him. There was a persuasive earnestness in his preaching, a solemn sweetness in his voice, and an impressiveness in his diction that always enlisted the attention and the admiration of his hearers; as a mere rhetorician he was surpassed by few on the stage, and by no one in the church, unless by Wainwright and by Doane.—In private life he was warm, genial, a charming companion, and an ever faithful friend. His conversation, rich with illustrations gathered from extensive study, travel, and observation, was lighted up at times with flashes of the purest and most sparkling wit. Everyone will recall the time when he was overwhelmed with the difficulties resulting from his educational enterprise at Flushing. The future seemed dark enough. A friend consoled him with a quotation from the Psalmist, that the Lord would "feed the young ravens." "Ah, yes," said the doctor, smilingly, "but there is nothing said about the young Hawks." Hundreds of like sayings are treasured up by the doctor's friends, and these flashes are the reliefs to more solemn and sacred hours in houses of mourning and affliction, where the doctor came sometimes as an ever-welcome genial guest, and again as a ministering angel, with the consolations of his priestly office for all but broken hearts. There are many mourners for him now.

As a scholar and author, Dr. Hawks will be remembered by his "Contributions to the Ecclesiastical History of the United States" (2 vols. 8vo., embracing Virginia and Maryland, New York, 1836-'41;) "Egypt and its Monuments," (8vo., 1849;) "Auricular Confession in the Protestant Episcopal Church" (12mo, 1840.) He translated Rovero and Tschudi's "Antiquities of Peru" (1854,) and has edited the "Official and other State papers of the late Major General Alexander Hamilton," (2vo., 1842.) Before he entered the church he published "Reports of Cases adjudged in the Supreme Court of North Carolina, 1820-'28" (4 vols. 8vo., Raleigh, 1823-'8;) and "Digest of all the Cases Decided and Reported in North Carolina;" and he was an industrious and frequent contributor to religious and other periodicals.

Whatever views may have been expressed or entertained with regard to Dr. Hawks' position in respect of the rebellion, no one will now speak of him with any other thoughts than those of reverence and respect. His name was absolutely without a stain; his character without a spot; and his memory will be cherished as long as his many acts of charity and kindness are remembered, with the grateful affection of his hosts of devoted friends.

MR. RAYMOND WITHDRAWS.—Hon. Henry J. Raymond has written a letter withdrawing his name as a candidate for re-election to Congress from the sixth district of New York. Sour grapes.

Dr. Livingstone writes, July 11th, from somewhere in the middle of Africa, that he is well and "pushing along."

LAND FOR SALE.

THE undersigned, as Executor of Samuel W. Branch, deceased, will offer at public vendue, to the highest bidder, on the First Monday in November next, the tract of Land belonging to the estate of the said Samuel W. Branch, on which the said Samuel W. Branch resided at the time of his death.

The said tract of Land is situated in Halifax county, North Carolina, about two miles east of Enfield, which is the nearest Depot. It contains twelve hundred acres, about two thirds of which are cleared and in cultivation. One hundred acres of the cultivated lands are low grounds of the finest quality. At least three thousand dollars will be required in cash. A credit of one, two and three years will be allowed on the remainder of the purchase money, which must be unexceptionably secured by personal security, or the purchaser may pay all cash at his option. THE SENTINEL.

Monday Evening, Oct. 1, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—J. S. Scott & Co., Wholesale Grocers and Commission Merchants, Wilmington, offer their services to the trade, North and South. We invite attention to their announcement, and can bear testimony to the energy and reliability of the gentlemen composing the firm. Their list of references, however, is sufficient guaranty of both.

G. D. Kearney, Exr. of W. D. Fuller, deceased, will sell, at public auction, in Oxford, on Friday next, a valuable tract of land, fully described in the advertisement.

Jno. R. Branch and Benj. F. Gary, Ex'rs. of Sam'l. W. Branch, deceased, will sell, at public vendue, on the first Monday in November, a valuable tract of land, with desirable improvements, in Halifax county.

A first class House in the City for rent, or an arrangement will be made with an Agent for keeping a boarding-house: Apply to L. P. Olds, Esq., or Mrs. H. W. Miller.

Albert Johnson, Family Grocer, North side of Market Square, calls attention to his superior assortment of family groceries, &c., &c.

SUPERIOR COURT OF WAKE.—This tribunal is in session the present week,—His Honor Judge Merrimon, presiding. We learn that there is a large amount of business on the docket, and that there are several capital cases to be disposed of.

COLORED EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.—This Convention, which has been called officially, meets in this city to-morrow, and will open its session in the African Church, at 10½ o'clock a. m. We regard this as an important movement to the future well being of the colored race. If wise and conservative counsels shall prevail, much good may be accomplished, but if men not identified with our North Carolina colored population, who have not really any permanent interest in their welfare, shall be permitted to control the Convention, we shall look for no good, but much evil.

It is a Convention called purely to consult upon the best plan of organizing and inaugurating a feasable system of Education for our colored population. The design, as we understand it, looks to the end of providing for the education of the rising and future generations of the colored people of North Carolina. The object is a laudable one and must look to permanency. It has no political aims or ends, and, to be made useful and efficient, politics, in any of its phases, must be kept entirely aloof from the movement. We hope, therefore, the Convention will be very careful in selecting a discreet and sensible Presiding Officer, who will not allow the introduction of any matter, either in the form of resolutions or speeches, which does not bear directly upon the object of the Convention—the subject of Education.

From what we have seen and heard, it is very clear that many of the colored people throughout the State do not correctly understand the objects of the Convention, and it is possible some of the delegates do not. It is, therefore, important that the presiding officer should be a North Carolinian, as all the officers should be, and that he explain at the outset, clearly and comprehensively, the real objects of the Convention.

ARRIVALS AT THE YARBOROUGH HOUSE, Sept. 29th and 30th.—J. Jessup, R. McDaniel, Jas. O. Barry, H. L. Shore, W. J. Myrover and H. Monaghan, Fayetteville, N. C.; Jas. Alston and W. T. Norwood, N. C.; J. C. Codner, Wayne Co.; J. C. Richardson, Johnson Co.; Jas. B. Batchelor and A. F. Alston, Warrenton; David A. Barnes, Murfreesboro'; E. E. Burruss, Wilmington; Jno. Dilworth, Newbern; J. W. B. Watson, Raleigh; W. A. Graham, Hillsboro'; Frank Potts, Bernard Todd and R. A. Young, Petersburg; W. M. Buzbey, Jno. Morris, Rollin Church and J. C. Cooper, New York; Miss Mary Clegg, Va.; R. W. Belo, Galveston, Texas; Robert Cochran, Athens, Tenn.

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, Sept. 29th. and 30th.—Col. J. M. Heck, Warren Co.; Wm. B. Griffith, Jas. H. Ludwig, Baltimore; N. Newby, Ga.; J. M. Turner, Petersburg, Va.; R. E. Morecock, R. & G. R. R.; J. M. Wooding, Va.; Lieut. J. J. Sullivan, Maj. W. H. Stickney, U. S. A.; R. T. Holbrook, M. V. B. Gilbert, R. D. Cadugan, A. E. Jacobs, M. Midgett, Dr. A. B. Chapin, Roanoke Island; J. B. Bobbitt, Clayton.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.—A. Knight, Esq., announces himself as a candidate for the House of Commons in Anson. He stands on the Johnson-Worth platform. Maj. D. A. Covington, also Johnson-Worth, is a candidate, thus far without opposition, in the Senatorial District of Union and Anson.

Col. Jno. N. Whitford is a candidate for a seat in the House of Commons from Jones, and Calvin Koontz is announced as a candidate in the Senatorial District of Carteret and Jones.

D. G. MacRae and W. McL. McKay, Esqrs., are candidates for the House of Commons in Cumberland. They are both good Johnson-Worth men. Mr. MacRae was an efficient and working member of the late Convention.

NEW-BERNE vs NEW ENGLAND.—The Newbern Times learns from the Assistant Assessor, that, up to the present time, no less than two hundred and thirty-three gold watches, and fifty-seven piano-fortes, have been listed for Internal Revenue tax in that city.

This is a greater number than was listed in all the New England States, according to an exhibit some time since published. The difference is easily accounted for. Honesty, at least, has not "played out" in the old North State.

THE CLARENDON BRIDGE AT FAYETTEVILLE.—We learn that this work is so nearly completed, that wagons and other vehicles can pass. The farmers of Sampson and other counties, east of the Cape Fear river, will be enabled to reach their old market now, without the inconvenience and delays to which they have been subjected, since the burning of the bridge in 1865.

For the Sentinel.

"Plot" or "Plat."

MESSRS. EDITORS:—"Pedagogue" seems not to have consulted his dictionaries, or the old English authors, when he made his criticism on the notice in the Capitol grounds: "Keep off the Grass PLOTS!"

Let him examine the following authorities and we think a little of his feeling will subside:

Plot from the Saxon plot.

Webster.—"Plot, (a different orthography of plat) a plat or small extent of ground."

Walker gives both, with a preference for plot.

Johnson gives both, with a preference for plot.

Richardson gives both.

Spencer in his Gnat:—"——There plotteth out a tombe by measured space."

Same, in Facrie Queene:—"It was a chosen plot of fertil land."

Ford's Broken Heart:—"The plot in which the vine takes root."

Tusser:—"Plant ye with alders and willows a plot."

Drayton:—"This liketh moory plots," &c.

Shakespeare:—"Many unfrequented plots there are," &c.

Same:—"Win them but this single plot to lose."

Locke:—"Weeds grow not in the wild uncultivated waste, but in garden plots."

Milton and Addison use plot and plat indiscriminately. Scott, Bulwer and Macaulay use "plot" almost exclusively. In fact, it would appear odd to the modern eye to see the word spelled otherwise than "plot."

We could give many other authorities to justify the Governor's spelling, but the above, we think, will suffice. X.

SENSIBLE AFRICAN:—A meeting of the colored population of Stokes was held at Salem, on Saturday last, for the purpose of electing a delegate to the "Educational Convention" to be held in this City to-morow. Among the orators on the occasion was Lewis Hegé, who discoursed as follows. Lewis takes a rational view of things, and we are glad to see it stated that he was duly elected:

"Now, my frens, we mus' look at de state ob fings farly an' squarly in de face. We sees what hav to be done—we mus' hep ourseves. Aint dat so? Dere was a good menny ob you what was under de idee dat when you was sot free you was a gwine to play de hi-ferlute. Aint dat so? An' den menny ob you had de 'spectation ob libbin, as de Skriptur sez, on de fat ob de lan'. But whar, I ax you, is dem kalkilashuns now? Ob course we was all glad to be 'livered from bondige—you was glad, an' I wer glad. But looky here—what good does dat do us ef we's too—too—ingidint for to go to work an' hep ourseves? Aint dat so? Now 'spose—jes 'spose—you wer a gwine 'long de road, an' you seed a sheep in de mire, on de road side ob de fence. Well, now, if you is kind hearted, you'll pull dat sheep out ob de mire, whar it would hav perisht, an' you'll put de sheep on de odder side ob de fence, into de field, whar it can pick a little grass here an' a little weed dar, and dar-by hep hisself. But 'spose you broke dat sheep's leg when you put him ober in de field, an' spose you go off an' leave him in dat fix! What good is you done de sheep? Dat's what I want to know. [Here the orator was interrupted by bursting peals of applause and shouts of 'Hege's 'lected, by jing!' 'Dat's you, Lewis!' 'Hoo-ray for Lewis!'] In continuation he said: Now, ef I was to ax you how menny ob you'd starve afore you'd steal, I 'spect you'd most all holler out "I would—I would." Lem me tell you somefin:—When ebber you hear a feller hollerin' "I'd starve afore I'd steal,' I say, watch dat man!"

I have deferred the time of opening bids in order that parties interested might have opportunity of examining the reports of the various Companies for the present year, which no doubt can be obtained from the proper officers of the Companies.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMELTER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON. D. C,

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College, Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

The course of instruction will be such as to make the Academy a great a school of theoretical and applied science—in which languages and literature will also receive a full share of attention. The discipline and instruction will be upon a complete military basis.

Gen'l. Colston's long experience and extensive acquaintance enable him to assure the public, that he will secure the services of Professors of distinguished ability as the wants of the school require them, and he confidently relies upon the liberal patronage of his old friends and companions in arms, throughout N. C. and the whole South.

Applications for admission must be made as early as practicable, to the Superintendent, and accompanied by testimonials of good moral character. Circulars containing full information will be issued in a few days. For these, and all further particulars, apply to GEN R. E. COLSTON,

Superintendent Hillsborough Military Academy, Hillsborough N. C.
